

manufacturing automation

streamlined production

Tracking manufacturing in your Sage 100 or Sage 100cloud system can be challenging. Keeping an eye on finished product and component inventory levels can be difficult. ScanForce Manufacturing Automation alleviates these issues by recording and tracking with handheld scanners. Automating the production entry process streamlines the manufacturing process by allowing you to view inventory levels in real-time and gives you peace of mind in knowing your Sage 100 or Sage 100cloud data is up to date as well.

accuracy + efficiency

Automate your Bill of Materials Production Entry and choose from multiple options to suit your production process. Whether you are looking to scan the finished goods as they come off the production line and have all components automatically backflush, or you want to get the extra verification of ensuring the right components and quantities are being utilized—ScanForce has the right solution.

Use Work Order Tracking for more complex manufacturing operations—streamline work order release, labor tracking, material issues, and completions.

Track manufacturing entries in real-time with Auto-Post. View updated inventory levels as each manufacturing process is completed. If you track Lot or Serial Numbers, immediately ship a product as soon as the production is complete.

key features

Wireless

ScanForce offers the fastest and most reliable wireless solution on the market.

Instant validations allow you to take advantage if you have full coverage, but won't slow you down if you don't.

Barcode Scanning

In the time it takes a keyboard operator to make two keystrokes, ScanForce has already scanned a barcode.

Scanning eliminates human assumptions when coming across two part numbers that look similar.

Integration

ScanForce was designed and developed exclusively for the Sage 100 product line by a Sage Gold Development Partner.

Choose from hundreds of configuration options and dozens of third-party integrations.
