Blytheco Selected 2006 Technology Pacesetter

Laguna Hills, CA – January 24, 2007 – Blytheco has been named by Accounting Today Magazine as 2006 Technology Pacesetter. The annual list is determined by surveying top firms nominated by peers and software publishers. The nominees are top sales producers and role model businesses within the software industry. The nominated firms complete a survey, which includes financial data as well as key strategies, trends and what role new technologies will play in the upcoming year. Once the information is compiled, Accounting Today makes its selections.

“We are honored to be included on this elite industry list for a sixth consecutive year,” said Stephen P. Blythe, President of Blytheco. “I am proud of our team accomplishments. This recognition is a reflection of our team dedication to our clients. We constantly look for ways to better service clients and use ERP and CRM business applications and technology to help solve business problems. Keeping pace with the latest technology and focusing on superior client service is paramount to our strategy. It is great to have our team recognized nationally by our peers.”
