Renewing School Management
via the web™

► Who are we?

RenWeb's vision began when a University Dean of Engineering combined his experience as an administrator, teacher and parent, with his real-world software engineering expertise. He created a school management solution that embraces the varied needs of administration, staff, teachers, parents and students. This next-generation school management software is totally integrated into one database on the web. It can now be found in hundreds of K-12 schools that have joined our family over the last seven years. Our desire is for RenWeb to become an extension of your school, like part of your staff. In fact, many from our sales, support and software development teams are former RenWeb school administrators, teachers and office managers. We're continually adding value to the program based on our hands-on experience and relationships with our family of schools.

It is with great pleasure that I write this endorsement letter for RENWEB in that God richly blessed us with this technology and made our school more efficient and effective in delivering our mission!

– D. Culpepper, Superintendent

The Power of RenWeb Integration

► RenWeb integrates over 150 management features into ONE database, unifying school and home!

RenWeb's approach to school management software automates the flow of information between school administration, the classroom and the home, via the web, using one database. For example, Rachel's mom contacts the school to inquire about enrollment. RenWeb's admissions feature records her information and tracks her progress through enrollment without requiring the school to re-key information. Once enrolled, her teacher's gradebook is automatically updated to show Rachel's name. Her teacher can grade Rachel's papers and post the results from home. Rachel's parents can instantly view her grades and attendance on the ParentsWeb from work or home. The information flows automatically from gradebook to the ParentsWeb without manual synchronization or uploads between programs or modules. RenWeb ensures your data's security over the web with the same technologies used by online banking and other secure web applications.

► Getting started is as easy as 1-2-3!

We understand how frustrating the experience of selecting and installing a management software package can be. You may ask, "Who looks forward to converting all my data, configuring the software to fit my school, and answering my faculty's questions?" We do. We assign a Conversion Team to convert your historical data, set up the software, and train your faculty and staff. We're with you every step of the way.

1 Make the easy, risk-free decision to go with RenWeb any time of the year!

2 The RenWeb Team converts your data and completes the installation.

3 Start renewing your school's management via the web! It's ready to use from day one!

Step 1: Choose RenWeb. Over 99% of the schools that have joined us over the last seven years are still with us — proving we're a trusted choice. This record allows us to offer an industry-exclusive, six-month, money-back satisfaction guarantee on your site license fee.

Step 2: Send us all your historical data (as is, from any prior software, spreadsheets or paper reports) and your RenWeb Conversion Team does the rest. No data conversion fee! The entire setup and conversion is covered by your site license. Can it get any better than that? We can have your school ready to go in a week or so. You may want to purchase a day of training for your faculty and staff before your start day. That's all schools need to become effective with the system!

Step 3: Celebrate! On your first day, everything works! Should you have a question along the way, our state-of-the-art tech support sees exactly what you see and works with you in your desired format: phone, fax or email. All updates to the program are automatic and are included in your low monthly subscription fee, so there are never any additional modules to buy or additional revision releases to pay for.

It's as easy as 1-2-3!
